Plano waited day and night in station, but Ma Came at Last.

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—Miss Rebecca Noe, of Greensburg, Ky., arrived in the city on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern road, expecting to be met at the station by her fiancé, E. D. Dodd, of Springfield, and to whom she had been introduced by a letter through a Laconi man, formerly a resident of Greensburg, and who corresponds regularly with the Noe family.

The girl had never met Dodd, and had only a small tintype by which to identify him. She wore a high bow of blue satin ribbon at her breast, by which Dodd was to identify her. Dodd failed to put in an appearance at the station, though he had sent her the money with which to come to Springfield, and told her he would meet her at the station. But she waited all day and all night. He came the next morning accompanied by two women, and the patience of Miss Noe was rewarded. They were married soon afterward by Rev. F. M. Rogers.

PLANE MET IN PANAMA

Solution of the Isthmian Canal Amusement Problem. RECREATION FOR ALL HANDS.

Facilities For Many Amusements Furnished In Model Y. M. C. A. Clubhouses Now Open at Colon, Cristobal, Empress & Gorgona.

With the opening of the first Y. M. C. A. building at Colon, in Panama, the Panama canal commission has solved completely the amusement problem for its employees, writes a Panama correspondent of the New York Herald. The encouragement of baseball has been an important factor, but this only provided for one day's recreation in each week, while the Y. M. C. A. clubhouses will provide the recreation period at meal hours and for the evenings—the time when it is most needed. Clubhouses of uniform size have been built at Colon, Empress, Gorgona and Cristobal, each building being commodious and fenced in with the ever present copper screening to keep out the mosquitoes.

The main structure is two stories, with spacious verandas enclosing both floors. The lobby contains a reception hall, business office and soda fountain. The billiard and pool room is equipped with four tables and accommodations for spectators. An experienced attendant is in charge.

The smoking, lounging and small game room is furnished with easy chairs, settees and game tables. Equipment is provided for chess, checkers, carom and card playing. It is of course understood that no gambling will be introduced. For the library, reading and writing room, a new volume library, with books selected to meet the local needs, has been negotiated. One hundred standard magazines and papers are not additional. Tables, chairs, equipment and stationery are furnished for use of members.

The entertainment hall accommodates about 300, aside from veranda space. A stereopticon and piano are included in the equipment. Lectures, musicals, entertainers and other talent, both local and imported, will be presented frequently. Local social groups are granted the use of this floor for dancing on application for certain evenings.

A committee and class room will accommodate small groups. Educational classes will be organized upon application of six or more members. Working competent instructors can be obtained. The annex is connected with the main building by two glass bridges. It contains two bowling alleys, of the best grade, in charge of an attendant; shower baths, lavatories and lockers; a gymnasium with a complete outfit of dumbbells, Indian clubs and bar bells. The oversight of the entire work is property by the commission is represented by a committee of five, who also hold an advisory relation to the entire organization. The building is appointed by the commission and consists of four canal officials and the general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Panama Canal zone. The method of conducting the work of this association is charged to the secretary and executive committee, appointed by the international committee.

ROCKEFELLER'S BIG SIGN.

John D. Rockefeller wants people to know where he lives when he is in Cleveland, O., says the New York Times. When in a few days he will start to make a large sign on the grass at Forest Hill, and now the words "Forest Hill" in big letters can be seen plainly from the street. The work hasn't progressed far enough to permit any one to determine how it is going to be finished. No one can get into the estate to find out.

The words "Forest Hill" are cut into the grass about fifty feet from the entrance in a hard knot, so they can be seen easily from passing street cars. Rockefeller is not a believer in signs, and the only one that he has ever tolerated is a board on the drive that entitles his house. It bears the modest request, "Please do not drive around the house." Not only has there never been a sign showing the big park's location, but there has not even been a "Keep out" or a "Keep off the grass" sign.

An Infant Mirror Writing.

A case of mirror writing has been brought to light in the Great Barrington public schools which is attracting considerable attention, says the Springfield Republican. Vera Coser, a five-year-old girl who attends the primary grade in the village and at first the teacher was unable to make out just what the child was doing. When any copy is given to her to write, she starts at the right hand side of the paper, and when she finishes one word thinks that the work was a mere scribble. Placing the writing before a mirror, it can be easily read, and the copy is surprisingly plain.

Population of Egypt.

Census returns show that the total population of Egypt, exclusive of pasha and Bedonko, is 11,200,250, of whom 6,618,684 are male and 5,581,565 are female. There is an increase of twenty 1,200,000 since 1897.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—An Imperial ukase has been issued proroguing the council of the empire until Nov. 13. This action follows the issuance of a manifesto early Sunday morning dissolving the duma, the lower house of the Russian parliament. The Imperial ukase abolishing the duma orders that the election of members to its successor, which is to meet Nov. 14, be held under the new election law that provides against the "subversion" of the educated classes by the uneducated masses.

This constitutes a virtual coup d'etat and overrides the specific provisions of the fundamental laws of the realm, solemnly proclaimed by its majesty on the eve of the convocation of the first duma, which declare that the electoral law could never be changed without the consent of parliament itself. This breach of the constitution is justified by the great law of necessity, the advocates of the emperor holding it impossible under the existing conditions, to secure a parliament capable of co-operating harmoniously with the crown to rescue Russia from anarchy and revolution.

The dissolution of the second duma was received throughout St. Petersburg with perfect tranquility, thanks to the precautionary measures, and in no place in Russia, so far as known, were there serious disturbances. Demonstrations among St. Petersburg workers and the peasantry are not alarmed. They profess to be chiefly apprehensive over the possibility of rioting and racial disturbances in Odessa and Kiev and other cities where party feeling runs high. An outbreak of agrarian disorders in several regions of the empire is anticipated later when the peasantry learn of the dissolution, but a spirit of quiet confidence in the ability of the government to handle the situation prevails in administrative circles.

News of the dissolution reached the St. Petersburg papers too late for their editorial comment. Tables were laid for the public with extra Sunday morning and great posters set up by the police at all street corners containing the wise announcements of the dissolution and the Imperial manifesto. Little knots of readers clustered around these the whole day, attentively perusing the manifesto, the planning of which was calculated to appeal to the patriotism of the lower classes. Little enthusiasm or excitement, however, was evoked, and many of the readers as they turned away, spat silently upon the ground as a sign of their contempt.

The Hague Disapproves.

The Hague, June 17.—The dissolution of the duma and the promulgation of a new election system in Russia has created a profound impression among the delegates at the peace conference. Although the dissolution of the duma was anticipated by those who have been closely following Russian developments in St. Petersburg, the fact that such an event should occur simultaneously with the opening of the peace conference was not explored. There is general disapproval as to the wisdom of the dissolution.

Apprehension at Warsaw.

Warsaw, June 17.—The newspapers issued extra Sunday, spreading the news of the duma's dissolution. It has created a profound impression. The emperor's action is the subject of eager discussion, the people fearing that the new election law will exclude the Poles. The city, however, remains quiet.

Rockefeller's automobile, in which Mr. Rockefeller was being rather hurriedly driven to his home, was stopped by a constable at Elms Ford and the chauffeur was subsequently fined $25 for exceeding the speed limit. Mr. Rockefeller said the fine was according to the constable the machine was making thirty miles an hour when he caught its speed over a measured course. ## San Francisco, June 18.—Mayor.

Acting was formerly removed from office by the supervisors at their meeting last evening. Supervisor James Gallagher was named as acting mayor in his place. This is the first step taken by the graft prosecution in the removal of their plan to restore good government in this city.

San Francisco, June 17.—A radical.

change in the executive branch of San Francisco's government is contemplated by the city fathers. The case of Mayor Schmitz, who is temporarily incapacitated by reason of his imprisonment in the county jail. The date for the election of a new mayor is set for June 27. Prior to that date he cannot possibly procure bail, according to the decision of Judge Danahy. The law provides that after judgment has been passed the matter of allowing bail is discretionary with any magistrate having jurisdiction. Consequently if judgment is passed on the date set Mayor Schmitz will have ground for a new application for bail and his request may run the gamut, not only of the twelve judges of the superior court, but of the appellate justices and judges of the police court as well. Whether Mayor Schmitz will ask for sentence on June 27 or ask for a continuance, has not been stated by his attorneys. This has made it impossible for the prosecution to plan its action in this regard.

The conviction of Mayor Schmitz has at last made simple what has heretofore been a complex problem. The charter provision making it incumbent upon the board of supervisors to appoint an acting mayor from their own number whenever the mayor comes temporarily incapacitated from performing his duties of office can be taken advantage of because of Mayor Schmitz's imprisonment. When Prosecuting Attorney Langdon gives the word, backed with the power of the supervisors, James Gallagher or some other supervisor will be at once appointed acting mayor. Resignations will be accepted from one or two members of the board who are not only willing but actually clamoring for a chance to become free again, and a vacant place will be filled with the man chosen by the prosecutor to take the mayor's chair. Gallagher will then be ordered to resign; the board will be instructed to place the new member in his stead and the new member will start his term by electing a Chief of Police Dixon's head and then proceed down the line.

Prohibition Vs. Saloon.

I have been on the road as traveling salesman for about fifteen years and have never yet been in a town that I could see the business hurt in any line by voting out saloons. I travel principally in the West, Tennessee, Kentucky and Illinois and there are a great many dry towns in the territory, and I don't hear of any complaint as to short business on account of no saloons. (In the other hand, I often hear complaints "since saloons went out our cash business is much better. Men come in and pay for their goods, when formerly it was beg for credit." The laboring people are the ones greatly benefited, especially the colored portion of it in the southern country. It is a very common thing for a merchant to say, "You see that fellow there? When we had saloons his family were poorly cared for. Now he and his family look thrifty as any man.")

A gentleman at Fulton, Ky., operating some kind of manufacturing plant, said he worked from thirty to forty colored men. "When Fulton had saloons I never thought of trying to work on Monday morning. The negroes out gambling and spending on Saturday and Sunday nights, and never ready to go to work on Monday, and on Tuesday about one-half force, and through the week I would have to advance them money to buy provisions. Only one or two owned their homes. Saloons have been out about two years or more now and every Monday morning I have a full force to work as any other morning in the week and not one half my men own their homes."

Just numbers of such instances I hear of but none have I ever heard of because of saloons being about the great cry and argument in all places, when it comes to a raking up of taxes to help keep the general city expenses. That amounts to nothing when you stop to think of the amount of cash it sends out of the city to jobbers and manufacturers of liquors that live in places where they don't do much of trade here. People that cannot afford to spend their money that way that keeps it in place that have money are generally too good business men to waste their money that way. In a town in Illinois I once saw one of my customers say, "I am going to vote saloons back here soon." I said "Don't do it if you want your business to hold up. He said, "If we get them back we will have ten saloons that will pay one thousand dollars a year to the town for city revenue and that means ten thousand dollars to vote towards fixing up our streets, etc." I said "but did you ever stop to think of the amount of cash money they take out of circulation goes out of the city to the outside and no credit and benefit derived by it. These ten saloons will do from twelve to fifteen thousand dollars a year in business per year. That means ten saloons taken from $120,000 to $150,000. They will be left in your hands as license from the town and expenses about $5,000 apiece, which means about $50,000. The balance out to the jobbers and manufacturers of liquors and with poorly supported and badly abused families to support and maintain. If that amount was spent with dry goods, groceries or clothing stores or in some other way toward supporting the families there would be more happy thoughts and less broken hearts."

But mind the snuff if you want prosperity and happiness. The business of the country to day demands sober and industrious men. Saloon proprietors themselves speak with prodigious of a bar tender that does not drink. There are some that don't, especially on people that have been a country saloon people, felt they had a right to disregard the law any more than any other business. Of course it is a bad business and I suppose eventually develops bad ideas in men's heads and they impose on the public by permission of dishonorable officers in charge of the law.

The intelligence of the country is against the saloon business and most every where it is put to a vote the dry is victorious, especially when left with our farmers whose money comes the slowest and hardest of all class of people in my judgement. Many city folks think farmers have nothing to do but break up their ground and sow the seed and reap a harvest. It is not so; many farmers are the worst of the slowest and hardest of the harvest is reaped. My old home of Meade is the only county that I can recall that has gone when put to a vote of the county, and I guess that it is due to the ## Letter From Florida.

Tampa, Fla., June 20, 1907
Editor Breckenridge News—
After a residence of some six months in Florida I ought to be able to write you some news of this southern part of the world. Hillsborough Farm, our present abode, is a large, new house some two years old; pleasantly situated among a grove of scattering pines and scrubby oaks, with a double 100 foot porch on either side the full length of the house, with a large hall above and below; also a wide hall at right angles through the center of the house. The dining room is capable of seating comfortably 200 people; there is a breakfast room, a parlor, a first and third Sunday, and prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

There are a dozen boarders here and no contagious diseases in the whole house. They all look well and hearty and are ready placed. It means no wonder why they are here. But it is a nice quiet place, and believed to be as healthy as any where in the world with as little sickness in the surrounding country which is thickly settled. This farm is very large and the nicest kept orange grove in all the surrounding country. But owing to a severe drought over seven months, confined to Florida alone, which was never known before, the vegetable gardens have suffered greatly, and the orange trees have not bloomed making the latter crop a failure in Florida, and a great loss financially to the state, but at this writing the rain is quite general.

This big house and farm are presided over by Mr. C. H. Shannon and his estate with a wife and a kind and generous father and mother to the afflicted. Mr. Shannon is a middle aged man, possessed of wonderful energy and industry and like the writer, a great smoker. He has a piano in the large hall, and a billiard table in the billiard hall, making the piano sound as though in a cave.

While the place is quiet enough, we have much that is interesting. The big Tampa Northern road, a new road just being completed up to its northern connection, runs about two hundred yards from the west and of the west, and the Tampa street cars pass some twenty-five yards from the house on the east side every half hour or better.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICANS

Augustus E. Willson Nominated for Governor Without Opposition.

Louisville, Ky., June 20.—After rumors of contests on the floor over the endorsement of a presidential candidate and the local option question, the Republicans of Kentucky in state convention last night selected Augustus E. Willson of Louisville as their candidate for governor and adopted their platform without a dissenting voice. The contest between the advocates of Vice President Fairbanks and Secretary of War Taft in committee was warm, but Taft was elected, naming no candidate and merely expressing a preference for a candidate who would faithfully carry out President Roosevelt's policy.

The work came from the committee room that even this was opposed by Fairbanks men as calculated to create an infernal endorsement of Taft. Indeed, this was the manner in which it was generally received and vaunted by the Taft men.

W. H. Cox of Mayfield, who, like Mr. Willson, had no opposition, was nominated for lieutenant governor. The remainder of the ticket follows: Auditor, S. P. James; treasurer, Chapman S. Farley; paducah; attorney general, Judge James Breathitt; superintendent of public instruction, B. Crabbe; Ashland; secretary of state, Benjamin Bruner; Mundeville; clerk of the court of appeals, Adams; commissioner of agriculture, N. T. Rankin; Jackson.

POOLROOM ON MISSISSIPPI

Memphis, Tenn., June 18.—Proprietors of the poolrooms at Hopfield, Ark., across the river, plan to circumvent the anti-rehearse gambling bills recently passed by Tennessee and Arkansas by establishing a floating poolroom on the order of the City of Traverse, which operates out of Chicago. It is now stated that the promoters will operate in a barge towed by the Charles H. Ordean, which will be anchored in the middle of the river. Weights, entries, lockers and odds will be followed by results, will be received by wire by a telephone company, which, it is said, will telephone them to the barge, cables being strung from the shore.

Mr. Vogt was one of the most prominent men of the state. He was a Scottish Rite mason and has been commander of the Knights of Kadosh for thirty years.

A JUDICIAL WARNING.

Justice Brewer of United States Supreme Court on Public Ownership.

There is this important difference between public and private indebtedness. The individual may mortgage his home or other property, and if the purpose for which the mortgage is given proves a failure the property may be sold. But the state has no such remedy. It simply receives so much less than the private mortgagee would, but the indebtedness does not burden upon them. It may wipe out his entire property and they receive nothing. To that extent they may suffer if a failure to inherit property can be called suffering. But public indebtedness is of a different character. It does not wipe out property now existing, but it casts a burden upon the industries and toll of those who come after us. Interest and principal are met by taxes, and taxes continue from age to age until the debt is paid. They who come after us, who may receive little or no benefit from the debt, are called upon to contribute the proceeds of their labor to its payment. In other words, while the indebtedness does not mortgage or encumber future industry and labor, public indebtedness does. And in paying the interest on the debt, we too forget that the future will have its burdens—that there will be demands upon it for expenditures. Improvements and conveniences corresponding to the needs of that day will be needed. So that there is injustice in creating a public indebtedness for improvements which will be only available in our day and only to a slight degree of benefit to those who come after us. Indeed, generally speaking, it is fair to leave the amount of public burdens it will assume, and each should take care of its own public indebtedness.—Leslie's Weekly.

Pennsylvania Grifters Simply Ran Wild in Lost.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 21.—Charles D. Montague, a metallic furniture expert of New York, testified before the capital investigating committee that the state had been grossly overcharged for the metallic furniture supplied by the Pennsylvania Construction company under a $2,000,000 contract. He said that the state had been overcharged for the "barbaric poor vault" in the state treasury in four hours with an ordinary eight-inch breast drill. Mr. Montague also said that the four sales in the capital for which this concern was paid $65,000 by the state were worth only $27,000 and that there was no chrome steel or steel rails in the vault, only ordinary steel which anyone could bore into with ease. As to the metallic furniture, the expert said the state was charged excessive prices. He said the sub-basement contained one case that cost the state $1,182. The list price was $27, subject to discount.

As to the first floor metallic furniture, it cost $223,231 and was worth $12,163. On the second floor the metallic furniture was worth $11,821 and cost $44,770. These estimates were based on standard trade price lists. Mr. Montague never heard of the metallic furniture being sold at the "outlet" of Harrisburg.

He said Architect Hooton "designed" metallic furniture for rooms which do not contain any at all, and the plan for which Hooton collected a commission of $80,000 from the state, as his own, were prepared by a company which supplied the metallic furniture to the Pennsylvania company.

The expert said that the bronze on the first floor was worth $26,000. The state paid $566,000.

The chief fighter was dressed in gold armor and waving red flags in the face of the bull. One horse was killed and another wounded. The fight lasted thirty minutes, when the bull was killed and pulled out.

The second bull was brought into the ring and fought half hour and was killed. Two horses were badly gored.

The third bull was then brought into the ring. In this round one horse was killed. The bull fought half an hour. The head mauler took a ten foot pole and ran up between the bull's horns and valdied clear over the bull goring the air. Then the bull was tired down and dispatched. The fourth bull was dispatched in practically the same manner, his Mexican antagonist subjecting himself to little danger. In fact, it was entirely a one sided thing. The bulls had no more showing than the people have against the bulls of Wall Street.

Now I am going to acknowledge that bull fighting is bad, but I believe we have worse things in our country.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

MR. F. BROOKMAN
WIFE AND CHILD

MRS. J. C. STERLING'S
CHILDREN

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Pe-ru-na should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Pe-ru-na on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quincy, croup, hoarseness, teryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na contains no narcotics.

One reason why Pe-ru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Pe-ru-na, if taken according to printed directions is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brookman, 818 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:

"I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Pe-ru-na."

"I would not be without it in the house, now."

"I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Pe-ru-na for a cold, and my husband also takes Pe-ru-na."

"I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brookman.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 267 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Pe-ru-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Pe-ru-na."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Pe-ru-na as a last resort, and it did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Pe-ru-na has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Pe-ru-na contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owe a great debt to Pe-ru-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting diseases, thus blighting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children today to believe in Pe-ru-na are speaking from their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Pe-ru-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Pe-ru-na with unquestioning faith.

G. H. FARMER

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, West Martinville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed to, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Pe-ru-na, and we shall always praise Pe-ru-na and use it in our family when needed."

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."

Mr. W. F. Doring, Mt. Vernon, Mo., writes:

"I have used Pe-ru-na in my entire satisfaction and am exceedingly well pleased with the results, having suffered greatly with catarrh of the stomach."

Mrs. J. C. Sterling, 188 Brown Avenue, Norfolk, Va., writes:

"My little boy, Meredith, suffered with indigestion so badly he could not eat anything without it making him very sick, so I thought (as many others have) I would try Pe-ru-na, and it worked like a charm."

"Now he eats anything he wishes, and I would not be without it for anything."

"My other little boy, Alfred, two and a half years old, has taken it and received as much benefit from Pe-ru-na as my brother."

"I hope my testimonials may be of some benefit to others, as I feel as though I cannot praise it enough."

—Mrs. J. C. Sterling.

Mr. Howard Andrew Herner, 624 Canal street, Reading, Pa., writes:

"I have Pe-ru-na in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup."

"I have introduced Pe-ru-na into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."

—Howard Andrew Herner.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Pe-ru-na is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of chronic, lingering, cases of catarrh will be prevented.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many fatalities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Pe-ru-na is the best friend she has in time of illness among her children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Pe-ru-na is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Pe-ru-na is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Pe-ru-na quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membrane. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Pe-ru-na is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Pe-ru-na has.

Mr. C. O. Hester writes:

"My daughter Alice, after taking three bottles of your Pe-ru-na is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years standing. We have used Pe-ru-na as a general tonic as well as for catarrh and are well pleased with it and recommend it to anybody who has catarrh."

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly relieves the children from the threat and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Pe-ru-na. However, the large majority of mothers who use Pe-ru-na, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Pe-ru-na that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

REPORT OF COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The first session of Annual County Convention was opened with devotional services led by R. L. McGuire. Text: "The first of the year." The lecture and sermon were given by T. C. Gebauer. Miss Maude Lee Frayer in her winsome way told the story of David.

Tuesday morning the session opened with devotional by Rev. F. R. Roberts. We were welcomed by J. P. Howell, Jr., who said all present represented the best of communities—those who are working for the advancement of Christian education of children.

As Rev. Graves was absent, V. G. Tibbings requested, and said he knew of no better place to be than at Hardinburg at a County Sunday school Convention.

Reading minutes of last convention was next on program. First topic called was "Our Birthright," by R. L. Oude. He spoke first of Ham's birthright and his selling it to Jacob. He said we have a birthright greater than either Isaac or Jacob, giving an excellent talk about that subject.

In Mrs. J. W. Hughes' topic "True Aim of Sunday School Work," she read for her motto Acts 20:24. Then said, take heed of self and if we feel lack take heed of God. Next we are to take heed of our flock. The aim is to win the people to true righteousness.

Report of County Superintendent was called. None responded at time, but later received a written report from Mrs. W. J. Piggott, superintendent of teacher training, in which she reported one class at Irvington.

In conference on these reports Mr. Gebauer tried to show the necessity of all being up and going. He read as greeting to us from Grayson County Sunday School workers, Phil. 4:8.

In his talk on Teacher Training he said every member of Sunday School should be a shepherd; that we must find the young people and the boys and girls of Breckenridge county. Then get them into the Sunday School, and when get them must hold them, feed them on Bible truth, and to do that must have teachers' meeting and then training class. There are more than three thousand boys and girls out of Sunday School in Breckenridge county. An earnest plea was made for them.

Had splendid reports from all district secretaries. Miss Frayer before telling the Bible story of Samuel, gave her reason for telling these stories and her earnestness in so doing.

Appointment of committees.

Rev. J. W. Hughes gave benediction. Adjournment until 1:15.

Afternoon session opened with devotional by Rev. E. B. English in reading second and third division of 119 Psalm.

Then report of County Secretary and Treasurer, in which fifty one schools reported 2,797 scholars with $107.32 paid to Sunday School work.

First topic called, "Winning and Holding Young Men," by Rev. B. M. Currie. His sad failure of teaching young men is not in the church but in us. Must win them forgerly, cannot drive the youth of today. Do not depend on theory, but go after the boy; and to be able to hold them we must be alive ourselves. As a parting word he said, follow them, find them and feed them.

Mr. Burns in discussing "Who and What Constitutes the Sunday School," said all people constitute the Sunday School, and the what consists of good officers and teachers. He impressed the necessity of home department and cradle roll.

Miss Frayer gave as few "Essentials in Elementary Teachings." First we must all have keen sense of responsibility that rests upon us; must know how much of truth must be presented. Teach clearly, plainly, thoughtfully, sweetly.

Rev. I. Cline only discussed his topic and showed the need of denominational co-operation.

Mr. G. W. Beard gave vivid contrast of Sunday Schools fifty years ago and today.

Thirty-six schools were represented. Nine district officers, six county officers, five pastors, eight superintendents and forty teachers.

The committee on nomination made the following report: T. B. Henderson, president; R. L. Oude, vice president; Mrs. Hollis Dreese, secretary; Mrs. Bettie McGlothlin, home department; Mrs. W. J. Piggott, primary; Joel H. Plie blood visitation; Prof. Warner, teacher training.

The report was received and adopted. The Committee on Resolutions offered the following report:

Resolved: That we as members of this convention and also citizens of a Christian nation, awake to a greater activity and interest in this International Sunday School work; also to its different departments and especially to the cradle roll and home department, teachers' meeting and training class.

Resolved: That a greater effort on the part of the district officers be manifested in a more thorough acquaintance with the work and make it a personal matter that we see to schools individually.

Resolved: That we tender our sincere thanks to Miss Maude Lee Frayer and Rev. T. C. Gebauer for their most valuable services and helpful inspiration to the work.

Resolved: That we extend our thanks to the organist and choir for the happy rendering of the beautiful songs, and also the good ladies of the town who so bountifully supplied the wants of the physical man.

Resolved: That we extend to our county papers our grateful thanks for their assistance rendered us through their liberal publications.

Whereas, We have enjoyed a splendid convention. Be it further

Resolved: That we extend to our county officers our appreciation of their faithful and efficient service.

Resolved: That we send greetings to our sister county, Meade.

Acts 20:24, "Take heed therefore unto yourselves and to all the flock over which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers to feed the church of God which He hath purchased with His own blood."

Miss Cora Matthews, Chm.

Miss Blanche Jolly.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
